

Gifts from a Donor-Advised Fund (DAF)

Thank you for your interest in recommending a grant from your donor-advised fund to Lowcountry Land Trust. As a 501(c)(3) nonprofit, Lowcountry Land Trust is eligible to receive grants from donor-advised funds. Whether your fund is managed by a private firm such as Vanguard, Charles Schwab, or Fidelity or held by a local foundation such as the Coastal Community Foundation, we can provide any necessary information.

If your grant-making organization requires a statement of purpose for the grant, please consider the following language:

Lowcountry Land Trust is a South Carolina-based nonprofit with the mission to protect land and water forever, nurture relationships between people and place, and connect the community to conservation. Funds will be used to protect vital landscapes throughout coastal South Carolina to preserve wildlife habitat, mitigate flood damage, and guarantee open green spaces for generations to come.

Upon receiving the recommended grant, we will send you a letter of gratitude from Lowcountry Land Trust. All other tax and administrative communications will be directed to the grant-making organization. Lowcountry Land Trust credits donor-directed grants to the grant advisor when considering consecutive and lifetime giving and Longleaf Society recognition. In keeping with federal law, donor-directed grants may not be used to fulfill any outstanding pledge balance.
